

“Abilities are Diverse “

Abilities are diverse. Disabilities quite often are constructed by the design options. The way world is designed generates disabilities for certain bodies. The unique dimension of our policy regarding disability is that we focus on abilities, and do not consider or treat disability as a lack or limitation. We hold that the design of space and the topology of objects result in disabilities, and strongly believe that alternative designs and structuring should be adopted to make spaces inclusive. The institution is keen on following its policies on accessible infrastructure and facilities. Creation of viable structures and modification of existing infrastructure top our priorities. The institution guards against excluding and discriminatory practices, and is committed towards constructing an inclusive environment, and building up a community that welcomes the differently abled, preventing any chance of stigmatisation.
